PROGRAM IN MARKETING

The marketing sector has a growing, developing, self-renewing structure worldwide. In particular, the recent global crisis has shown that countries only need to focus on production for catching sustainable growth, marketing manufactured products by following appropriate strategies is at the same time, perhaps even with a bigger prescription. Because a product produced does not have an economic impact on its own, but as long as appropriate strategies are selected and marketed, economic returns can be an element. The Marketing Program aims to offer highly graduated graduates who are confident in their modern marketing approach to the market and who have a high level of professional knowledge and skills. Graduates can be employed as sales representatives in the fields and stores, sales representatives, sales managers, researchers in marketing companies, public relations and advertising agencies.
